+++ Novel Sewing Receptacles Which the Traveler, the Invalid and the Woman with Limited Space Always Welcome for Their Darning and Embroidery.

The traveler, the invalid and the woman with limited space welcome always any new ideas in the way of holders for their sewing, their darp ing or their embroidery. A few such novel ideas are, therefore, given here If you do much fancy work or porches or while calling, use the rib bon sewing case shown here. It has a ribbon band which fastens around the waist with hook and eye, and three ribbon hangers (the number can, of course, be increased with your needs).

The first is folded over and stitched into pockets, in each of which there is a spool of cotton or a roll of Remedy.

"I take pleasure in recommending Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to my customers because I have confidence in it. I find that they are pleased with it and call for it when again in need of such a medicine," writes J. W. Sexson, Montevallo, Mo. For sale by all dealers.

At the end is a cushion for needles. Even the loops at the top may be utilized for such things as pockets for the thimble, buttons, etc.

The invalid will appreciate a large workbag attached to the rungs of her rocking chair. It is made as shown, of dark denim or bright cretonne or chintz, with a row of small pockets at the bottom, a larger buttoned one above, and a wide bag forming the backing. Each pocket is edged with tape, and the whole is fastened to the chair by means of ance with a tradition, pierce the head of a magple with a thorn whenever they catch one. According to the French legend, after Jesus had been nailed to the cross two birds alighted on the extended arms of the instrument of death. One was a magple with a beautiful aigrette on its head and a long waving tail, then the handsomest of birds but the wickedest, chirping insult at the suffering Jesus. The other bird was a modest little bird with gray plumage, which approached the cross timidly, uttering cries of grief. With its beak it tried to pluck away one of the thorns. A single drop of the blood fell on the pitying little gray bird and gave the robin redbreast.

SOME APPLE TREE HISTORY

Planted 85 Years Ago, with Seeds Brought from England.

The oldest apple tree in the Pacific Northwest, planted eighty-five years ago, by the early officers of the Hudson's Bay Company from seeds car-ried in their vest pockets from England, has been discovered by A. A Quarnberg, district horticultural in spector, and positively identified. The tree is in front of the chief commis-sary's office, in the southeast part of this reservation

Col. McGunnegle, commanding offi cer of this post, upon learning of the history of the tree, gave orders imme-diately to have a fence built around it, a tablet bearing a short history and every precau...on taken to pre serve it. Inspector Quarnberg says the tree may live to be 100 years old The record of the tree was written by Mrs. Mary Whitman of Vancouver Wash., September 12, 1836. Another record, it is thought by Historian Bancroft, is: "At a lunch party in London about 1825, given in honor of some your gentlemen who were about to ch. bark for Fort Vancouver in the en ploy of the Hudson's Bay Company slipped by some young ladies into the waistcoat pockets of the young men and upon their arrival at their de tination the young men in overhau ing their wardrobes discovered th seeds and gave them to Bruce, the gardener at the fort."

Ivry's Novel Fire Alarm

Jules Contant, the Mayor of vry, is taking precautions for the safety of his jurisdiction against fire which have not received unanimous support. He has set up a powerful siren, not at all unlike, as far as sound goes, those in use on the great iners. The alarm can be heard any where within a radius of six kilome ters, or nearly four miles. The ap paratus is not worked by steam, but y electricity. The principal ground of objection to the Mayor's proposals eems to have been based on preju ce-that the siren sounded at night would disturb the slumberers of Ivry The Mayor, however, requires some stronger reasons before he gives heed the malcontents - London Dail

Bird That is Bee's Enemy

Bees have enemies of various kinds like the rest of creation. Every one knows that many birds are insectivor ous but all insects do not form the food of any one species. The bird which has formed a taste for bees is the blue tit, and if a pair of these discover a suitable nesting place in the neighborhood of an apiary it is urprising how many bees will be arried off to satisfy them and their oung. Generally their work is most felt where queen raising is extenively indulged in, for queens and frones, being largest and slowest on the wing, form a desirable and an easy prey.-Agricultural Economist.
